1961 Year

Inspirational academic achievements, exceptional athletic competition, and kaleidoscopic extra-curricular activities all have made 1961 a memorable year. National recognition in academic areas, an expanding program both in league and intramural sports, and fun-filled activities both on and off campus, have favorably marked the year. We look ahead to an exciting future with great anticipation. We look back on an exciting 1961 with deep appreciation.

The easy road to college is finished, now comes the test of manhood. College will be different, more freedom but harder work, shorter periods but harder lessons. It will be completely up to you whether you stand or fall. Take all of your tasks with a serious intent and use all of the knowledge that you have gained here and you can't help but succeed. This will bring credit to your family, yourself, and your school.

Dedicated to Miss
Bertha
Wardell

Throughout her many years at Black-Foxe, this gentle lady, our librarian, has been advisor, instructor, and friend to countless cadets. To the bewildered lower classman, struggling with his first term paper, she has given both time and a smile.

Miss Wardell has opened the door to good library procedure for most of us. She has helped many of us to find just the right book. And she has given a kind word of advice or cheer whenever she has noted its need.

For all of this, and for much, much more we dedicate to her the Adjutant 1961.

BROOK TROUT

For the president of the Senior Class, there are both honors and responsibilities. Brook Trout with his tireless efforts on behalf of the class of '61 richly merits the honors — with trojan thoroughness and consideration for his classmates, he has discharged the responsibilities of his office.

Brook, known to his fellow seniors as the "Fish," was born January 6, 1943, here in Los Angeles. He entered Black-Foxe as a seventh grader in 1954 and has shared six full years of Black-Foxe life. During this time, Brook has established a fine record and has achieved a high degree of popularity.

In the military department, Brook serves as a captain in command of our color guard and has kept alive the various traditions in connection with this unit. Athletically, he managed the swimming team this year. Academically, Brook has maintained a "B" average through high school and ranks in the upper fourth of his class.

In the social realm, Brook was fortunate enough to have his girl friend, Judy Gilson, chosen this year's Miss Adjutant.

Off campus, Brook enjoys cars and is the proud owner of a Corvette. He also likes photography, and as he puts it, "being a non-conformist."

Brook wishes to enroll at either the University of California at Santa Barbara or the University of Southern California next year.

Brook's '58 Corvette is the cause for that contented grin.

PETER MULLEN

Pete came to Black-Foxe in 1957. From the beginning, Pete displayed certain rare qualities of leadership, which, of course, were encouraged and developed by the military. He now holds the position of Group Commander—highest in the Corps — and has done an outstanding job.

Throughout high school, Pete has been a valuable addition to the swimming team, of which he was captain in his junior year. His aquatic performances have been good enough to earn him All-America rating, an honor reserved for a select few.

But for Pete, swimming is not sufficient, for he has been seen hurriedly changing from swim trunks to basketball suit. Such enthusiasm is inspiring, and, therefore, it is no surprise that he was elected President of the Senior Letterman's Club.

Scholastically, Pete is in the upper third of his class, with a high aptitude for math. Popular with teachers and classmates alike, he should be a welcome addition to the University of Southern California where he will major in Engineering.

Pete smiles happily after winning the forty-yard freestyle in the B.F. Invitionals.

Cadet Private PATRICK BAYLEY

Pat became a member of the Corps in 1958, his sophomore year, after attending California Military Academy. During his stay at Black-Foxe he has made himself well known in many fields, especially as our class clown. "Beetle" can be found leading many a joke session, where his unquenchable source of ad-lib hilarities affords much cheer.

His academic prowess has never been affected by his carefree personality, for Pat has maintained a "B-plus" average, which includes a first place finish in his sophomore year. Certainly the fact that Pat is one of the best writers at Black-Foxe has assisted him academically.

This affable young man maintains an avid interest in sports both in and out of school. He has received two letters in varsity baseball and one in basketball. Other sports interests include bowling and auto racing. Pat also is noted for his familiarity with Las Vegas, where he will work during the summer of '61. Since he journeys there nearly every weekend to check on the family hosteleries, his knowledge of the area is not surprising.

Looking into the crystal ball, Pat sees himself in the hotel business, following a major in hotel administration at Michigan State University. To one of the best liked and undoubtedly one of the most humorous Seniors we wish the greatest measure of success in future endeavors.

Pat jokingly evades Officer Schulman by climbing a nearby tree.

Cadet Captain THOMAS BIEGING

Born November 26, 1943, Tom has lived in or has traveled in practically every state in the East. After attending high school in New York, Pennsylvania, and California, he came to Black-Foxe in February of 1960. Tom settled down to his new environment and has left a record of which he can be proud. Aside from obtaining the rank of Captain and Group Adjutant, he has been second in his class with a "B-plus" average and was admitted to the National Honor Society this year. Furthermore, Tom, while still a newcomer, was selected to be a delegate to Boy's State in Sacramento an honor well deserved. Very soon popular with his classmates, he was elected treasurer of the Senior class this year.

In athletics, Tom's no slouch. Having played soccer in the East, he adapted speedily to football and was a great asset to the team this year at quarterback and fullback positions. After his participation in football and basketball, Tom decided to take on another new sport - surfing, at which he quickly developed a rare degree of proficiency.

Next fall Tom plans to grace the campus of either Stanford or the Air Force Academy after spending time travelling up and down our coast surfing.

To a fine senior go our sincerest wishes for future success.

Tom checks out for an "appointment."

Cadet Private MICHAEL CALHOUN

Mike and his date seem conscious of the unusual chaperon.

Born in Pasadena in 1942, Mike entered the halls of Black-Foxe in 1958 after attending Newport Harbor High School at Newport Beach. Listing English as his favorite subject, he joined the journalism staff and became a journeyman reporter this year.

Mike has a variety of extra-curricular interests. Sportswise, he is enthusiastic about aviation and skiing. Two of his hobbies are photography and music. His favorite hobby, though, is the production and direction of amateur drama and films. Most recent of several such productions was his Newport Beach presentation of "Auntie Mame" with a cast of fifty teenagers. Mike has also been a participant in the Junior Achievement program.

Although uncertain about his choice of college, Mike will certainly choose Theater Arts as his major. Continuing this avid interest into later life, he hopes to have a career as a Broadway producer.

This summer Mike plans to combine a pleasing schedule of work and travel. Apparently he likes to be on the go, for he has seen not only all of the United States but also parts of Canada and Mexico.

To one of the affable young men in this year's senior class go all our best wishes for future success.

Cadet Private WILLIAM CHAPIN

Bill was born in Los Angeles on December 28, 1943. He and his family moved to New York where they lived for one year. Upon his return to Los Angeles, Bill attended Cathedral Chapel and St. Gregory's School and enrolled at Black-Foxe in 1957.

Throughout his four-year stay, Bill has been both a boarder and a day cadet. Scholastically he has maintained a "C" average. His favorite subject is English Literature, which he says has stimulated his desire to read good books.

On the drill field, Bill has been performing an essential task by supervising the cadets in the primary grades. This task requires patience and understanding as well as a bit of psychology, which Bill has displayed.

Bill has a great interest in the field of sports, having lettered in football, basketball, and track. Bill's main hobby is surfing, which he pursues doggedly at Malibu. He has served his class as sergeant-at-arms, and has participated in Junior Achievement. As an extra-curricular activity, Bill is a professional actor, having played in "Night of the Hunter," as well as "Meet McGraw" on TV.

Next fall, Bill expects to be settling down to college life at UCLA. We wish him the best of luck.

Bill obligingly goes along with the gag about the appearance of his car.

Cadet Major

STEPHEN CUMMINGS

Steve Cummings is a name firmly associated with the high standards of Black-Foxe. Leading his class academically, Steve has set high goals for all his classmates.

His activities are varied and numerous. He is past president of the "Sabre" chapter of the National Honor Society, secretary of his class for the second consecutive year, and a member of the Senior Letterman's Club.

Steve is not all concentration and furrowed eyebrows, for like all leaders, he has an effervescent quality which sparks his achievements.

He is an avid surfer and sports enthusiast, having chalked up two varsity letters in basketball — playing forward.

As Major Cummings, our executive officer, he has shown the Corps inimitable ingenuity and efficiency in earning the respect and esteem of his schoolmates.

Steve also enjoys the great outdoors and has made many surfing jaunts up and down the coast in his '60 Impala.

After graduation he plans to spend his summer in Hawaii, the surfers' ultimate goal, and then back to the mainland and take up residence in the dorm of Stanford University. Good luck in the Islands, Steve.

Steve has his surfboard in his '60 Chevy in preparation for one of his surfing jaunts.

Cadet Sergeant

GILBERT DELLINGER

Whether it be for his offbeat humor or for his cool bongos, Black-Foxe students have come to know and like Gil Dellinger. Gil entered Black-Foxe in 1959 as a junior and has since won himself a place in the hearts of his schoolmates. He is especially revered in Mr. Tucker's English class, where his ad-lib comments are always drawing chuckles.

Also, Gil has definite talents in art. He first displayed artistic skills in his posters for school activities, which can usually be seen on the bulletin boards around school.

A very serious young man with a carefree personality, Gil having maintained a "B" average at Black-Foxe, stands in the upper third of his class. In the military department Gil has attained the rank of sergeant and has done a fine job on the drill field.

On the sports scene, Gil has been a great addition, not only as a player, but also as a booster of team spirit. At the tailback position this, his first year in football here, he chalked up more than his share of yardage.

Gil's favorite subject is history, but he plans to major in business administration and creative advertising at University of Denver or USC.

Gil shows his artistic talent in this self-portrait

Tom Fakehany, deservedly dubbed "Tiger Tom" by his classmates, has excelled in many activities on campus. Having entered Black-Foxe in 1947, Tom has been a cadet for thirteen years. Scholastically, Tom has maintained a better-than-average ranking in his class.

Militarily and athletically, he certainly has proven himself. Drum major for the past three years, Tom has also been made commanding officer of Headquarters Company, a position holding the rank of Captain. He made himself known in the sports field by lettering on the first string varsity football team in his freshman year. He won two more letters for gridiron service. Indeed, the guard's spot, both offensive and defensive, and the linebacker's position were more than adequately filled by "Tiger Tom."

Tom has been very active in organizations in and out of school. He is vice-president of the Senior Letterman's Club, captain of the fencing team, and business manager on the Adjutant staff. His presence on the Senior Activities Committee has assured us of many memorable parties. He attended Junior Achievement last year and was elected president of one of its companies. He also is president of the Hy-Wynders, an off-campus car club.

Tom's favorite hobby is traveling. Last year he visited more than ten foreign countries while spanning five continents.

As to future plans, Tom hopes to attend La Sierra College where he will major in pre-law.

Cadet Captain THOMAS FAKEHANY

Rick Forno is completing his eleventh year at Black-Foxe. Rick has always been quiet and self-contained, qualities which are respected and appreciated by his fellow students.

Rick is intensely interested in his schoolwork, and surprises many teachers with his knowledge of their courses. More than once his name has ranked high in the senior class.

Swimming and track comprise the bulk of Rick's athletic activities, the former having interested him during the first few years succeeding his birth in 1943. At Black-Foxe, Rick has displayed the best of his swimming abilities in all his four years on varsity and junior varsity teams.

Academically, Rick excels in science, especially physics. It's a certainty that his ability to cope with scientific matters will help him when he studies medicine at the University of Southern California.

The military department is quite pleased with Rick, as are the band instructors, who have placed him in the 1st clarinet position in Headquarters Company. Last year Rick earned the rank of Sergeant and with it the duties of an NCO in the band.

Rick's hobbies, activities which will occupy much of his free time during the summer, include hunting, beachcombing, and training horses.

Rick brushes up on a hobby to go with his interest in horses.

Cadet Sergeant RICHARD FORNO

Cadet First Sergeant
PETER HANDS

Pete became a member of the corps in 1958, his sophomore year, after attending California High School. While at Black-Foxe he has become well known for his personality and subtle humor.

A solid "B" student, Pete has always ranked near the top of his class. He enjoys writing and he is the author of quite a few poems, which, while not well known, do afford him a great deal of pleasure in their composition.

Above all, Pete has the reputation of being a good athlete. He has received three varsity letters in baseball and two in football, garnering for himself the position of captain of the 1960 football team. Some of his other athletic interests include horseback riding, fishing, and water skiing.

In the military department he has attained the rank of First Sergeant in Headquarters Company. Pete has taken part in many school activities, some of which include being treasurer of the Senior Letterman's Club, writing on the Adjutant staff, and being Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senior Class.

After a summer of working, Pete plans to attend Northwestern University. We extend our best wishes for the future to this talented senior.

Jim displays his skill at field stripping an M-1

Cadet Captain
JAMES KITCHEN

Jim entered the world on June 21, 1942 in Los Angeles. After attending John Muir Junior High School, he came to Black-Foxe as an eighth grader.

Those who know Jim well appreciate the fine qualities of his personality. He is a serious student and possesses the many attributes of a good officer and gentleman.

In the military department Jim holds the rank of Ordinance Captain and performs such arduous tasks as caring for and maintaining all weapons, organizing and distributing military supplies, and preparing the armory for inspections. His job is never-ending as he is a member of the group staff as well. This requires a double effort on his part.

Scholastically, Jim's interests are varied. He apparently enjoys Biology the most, but says he spreads his interests instead of concentrating them on one subject.

As a child, Jim's parents introduced him to the hobby of breeding and showing dogs, an activity in which he quickly took an interest. In the past few years, Jim has worked at the kennels with his canine pets, advancing his knowledge in the care and training of them. In fact, Jim expects to attend the University of California at Davis, where he will major in veterinary science.

Our best wishes go with this fine senior.

Cadet
1st Lieutenant
RAYMOND
LEDBETTER

Ray assumes a stance on the shell of his classic coupe to replace a missing radiator cap.

Born August 17, 1943, Ray entered B.F. as a seventh grader. During his six years on campus he has formed close friendships with just about everyone he has associated with.

Athletically, Ray is noted for his fine diving. Having been a diver for six years, Ray is a vital link on the swimming team. His performances have gained him All-American honors for three consecutive years, placing him among the country's top ten divers.

Among his many hobbies Ray lists golf, water-sports, and music. He also enjoys working on his treasured Model A Ford which he drives regularly to school.

Ray's summer plans include a variety of activities, holding a job, working on his car, and traveling throughout California. Ray is a candidate for the Naval Academy, where he hopes to continue his military activities.

Cadet Private
RAYMOND
LINDER

Ray Linder has spent all of his high school years at Black-Foxe. Maintaining a B average, Ray stands, at his peak, sixth in his class.

Eighteen years old, Ray favors Mr. Tucker's English classes, falconry, hunting, golf, football, and baseball. In baseball he has participated on both JML and Varsity teams. Two years ago, Ray held a major office, that of Class Vice-President.

After his summer vacation, which may be a trip to Europe, Tahiti, or a tour of the U.S., Ray would like to attend Humboldt College for one or two years, then transfer to Pomona to finish his undergraduate work. After graduating from college, Ray wants to operate his own ice cream business. Success Ray, we're all looking forward to a free ice cream cone!

Ray takes the command
"At Ease" very seriously.

Cadet Sergeant HARRY MARONI

Harry entered Black-Foxe in 1960 after attending Elsinore Naval and Military School. This newest member of the senior class has come to be known and liked by the members of the faculty and by his fellow classmates.

In the classroom, he maintains a good average and lists his favorite classes as Physics and History. In the military department he has been quite active. Presently holding the rank of Sergeant in charge of the third platoon of C Company, a job which requires much patience and perserverance; Harry has proved his value as a leader.

Somewhat of a world traveler, he has toured Europe and most of this country. Speaking of traveling, each weekend Harry journeys to his home in Ontario where he devotes his weekend time to a busy social calendar and to his '57 Chevy.

Harry sees himself in the future as a metallurgical engineer. After a summer of working he plans to enroll at the Colorado School of Mines where he will major in metallurgy. To one of the friendliest, most personable Seniors of 1961, we wish the best of luck in all future endeavors.

Harry enjoys the finer things in life

Cadet Sergeant PETER MAXWELL

Pete entered Black-Foxe in his junior year after attending Santa Ana High School. Usually quiet and reserved, he is active in many school activities.

Academically Pete maintains a good average, his favorite subjects being English and History. In the military field he has attained the rank of Sergeant and is presently in charge of the 2nd platoon of C Company.

In his off-duty hours Pete enjoys many hobbies some of which are teaching children to swim in the family pool, using his skill in mechanical drawing to design household projects, and cooking up many treats at the stove for his family and friends.

Pete's greatest athletic contribution to Black-Foxe has been his swimming. In his first year of swimming at B. F. he secured a position on the All-American team by chalking up the nation's best prep-school time in the backstroke. Pete has been an inspiration to our other swimmers with his outstanding records in the butterfly and freestyle. Besides his swimming efforts he played center on the varsity football team.

In the future Pete plans to attend either the University of Southern California or Occidental where he will major in business administration.

Pete helps string up the variety of flags used to decorate the pool for the B.F. Invationals.

Cadet Corporal

HOMER NANNY

Since he entered Black-Foxe as a sophomore, Homer Nanny has been recognized as the school's authority on Corvettes and drag racing.

Homer was born November 3, 1943, in Hollywood. He attended the California Military Academy until 1958.

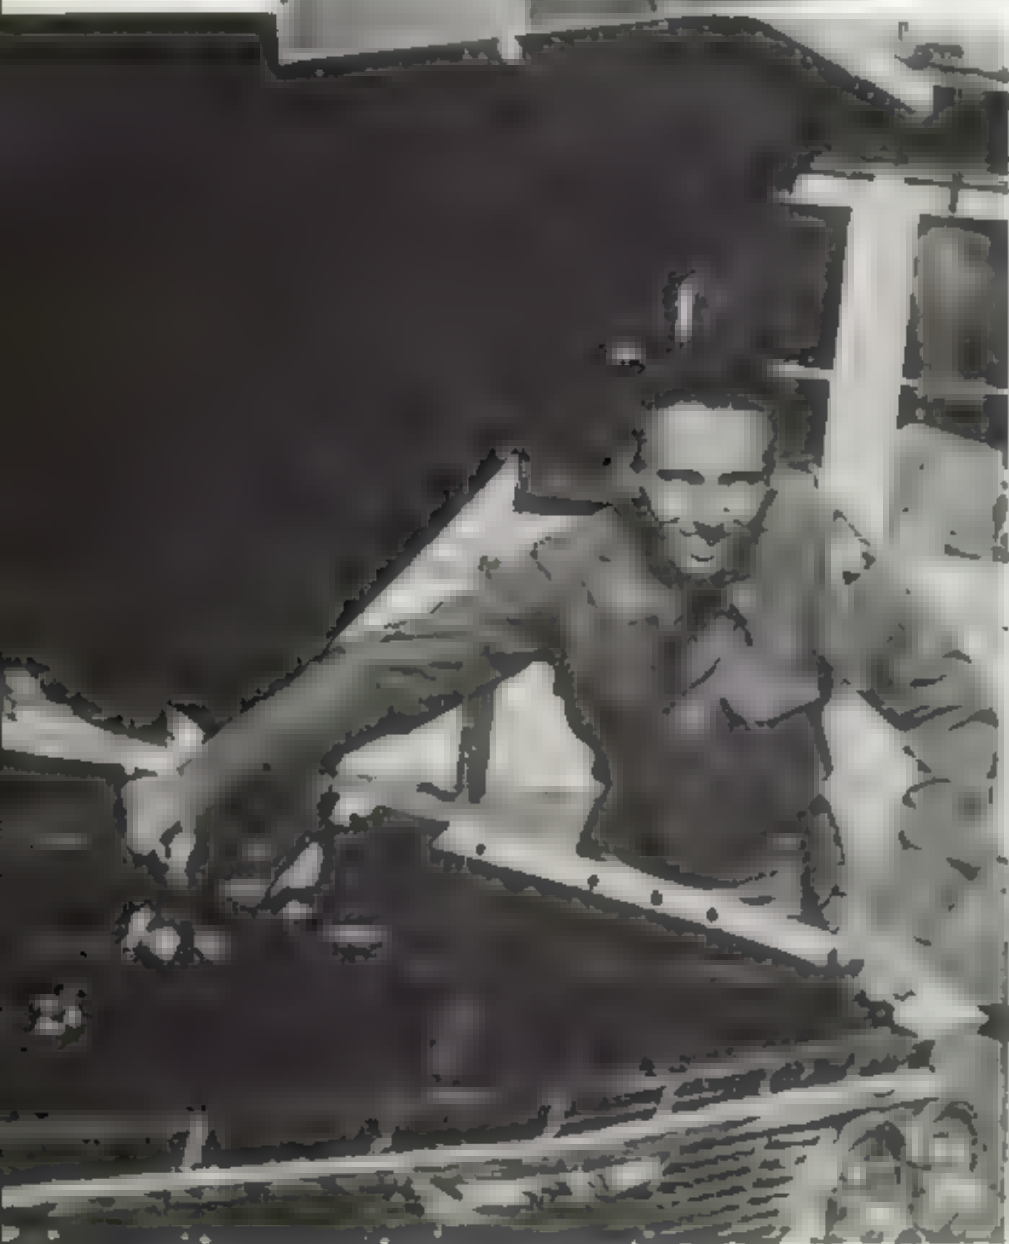

Homer, who has recently demonstrated genuine leadership ability has been rewarded with a position of leadership in "C" Company.

Homer can be found almost any weekend at one of his many hobbies including bowling, and of course his first love — cars.

In his scholastic endeavors Homer has always been a hard-working student and has consistently ranked among the intellectually curious of his class. Math is his favorite subject with English and American Government as his second choices. Homer has not yet decided on the college that he will attend but will major in either mechanical or electrical engineering.

Perhaps after Homer finishes his education he will decide to combine his engineering talents with his automotive interests then watch out because racing records are going to fly!

All kidding aside, Homer has won for himself a very warm place in the hearts of those who comprise the class of '61.

Homer displays the engine of his 1961 Chevrolet

Cadet Private First Class

PHILIP NEWMAN

Phil came to Black-Foxe in 1959, after studying at Burbank High School. A native of California, he has been a resident of Burbank for the past eleven years.

In his relatively short stay at Black-Foxe, Phil has proven his worth as a student by keeping a consistently solid "B" average. He ranks among the top ten of his class and has set his sights on Occidental College. Philosophy and political science carry the most weight in his consideration of a college major. Phil has displayed a very keen mind, and should do well in either of these fields.

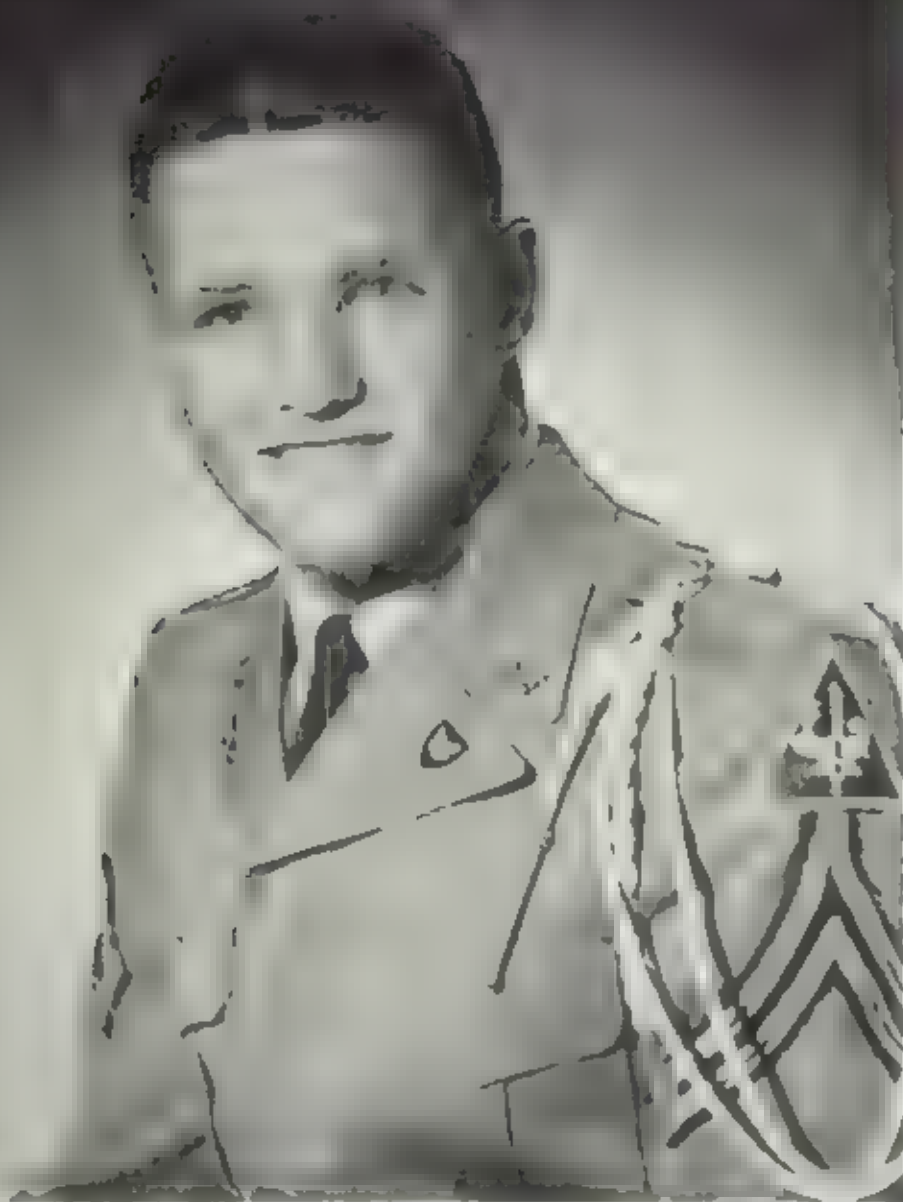

This fine student exhibits an unusual range of extracurricular interests. Among his sparetime pursuits are the study of chess, and the development of skill in several difficult card games. Phil was an active member of DeMolay until he started boarding at Black-Foxe and then his attendance became rather difficult. This member of the senior class plans to take up electronics this summer as a hobby.

Phil plans to work this summer, too, in order to add to his potential as a college student. We, his classmates, wish him the best of luck in all of his future endeavors.

Cadet Corporal
DOUGLAS O'HAIR JR.

Better known to his chemistry class as "phenophelia" Doug was born in Los Angeles on November 19, 1943

Doug, a graduate of Emerson Junior High, entered Black-Foxe in September, 1958, and since that time has made a name for himself in many fields. Athletically, Doug's main interest has been in football. He is known for his long spiralling kickoffs and crushing tackles. Doug as a corporal, also proudly serves on the Color Guard, carrying the school flag. Doug, after serving as class president last year, has been chosen as Class Advertising Captain this year. Along with these school activities, he also is an active member of the Jasons, a well known off campus club.

Upon graduation Doug is planning to make a tour of Europe with a few close friends or perhaps to spend some time in Tahiti.

After this restful summer, he wishes to attend either the University of Denver or the University of California at Santa Barbara where he plans to study hotel administration.

Best of luck to this fine young man.

Mike who is taking a look at Doug

Cadet Sergeant-Major
MICHAEL OSTERMAN

Mike — "Oinky" to his friends and classmates — was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, on August 20, 1943. He attended Westwood Elementary School and Emerson Junior High, after which he came to Black-Foxe in 1958.

"Oinky" started his athletic career as captain of the junior varsity basketball squad. While he is quite small for a basketball player, his speed and proficiency made him a valuable addition to the team. Since that time he has earned a berth with the Varsity hoopsters playing guard, and was elected captain of the squad. He, therefore, has two basketball letters, in addition to his two letters in track. More importantly, he has been the source of inspiration for all those concerned, as Mike has a keen desire to win, backed up by a strong sense of fair play.

In the academic world, Mike has maintained a high "B" average, ranking fifth in the class. In addition, he was elected Vice-President of the Senior class. During his spare time around school, Mike may be seen pursuing his job as sports writer for the Adjutant. Mathematics is Mike's favorite subject. He hopes to attend Occidental next fall.

Cadet Private ALLAN POWELL

Allan pursues a "weighty" problem on leverage on a local truck scale.

Allan Powell, undoubtedly the biggest member of our senior class, was born in 1943 in Santa Monica. This seventeen year old has attended Black-Foxe since 1956, when he transferred from Notre Dame Junior High School.

In his junior year Allan played varsity football and was a rugged contender and a very valuable player on the team. On the gridiron, his size and his affability earned him the affectionate nickname of "Teddybear."

Allan is an ardent skier and spends a good deal of his free time on the slopes at Mount Baldy. He is also the proud owner of a 1957 blue and white Ford, which he utilizes as transportation to and from school.

Allan lists Science as his favorite subject, with English running a close second. His future academic plans include enrollment at the University of California, where he plans to major in chemistry.

Allan's easy going personality has won him many friends among both faculty and students. We will remember him long for his pleasant manner and his friendliness.

Cadet Lieutenant
JOHNNY RACKIN

Johnny knows all cars like the back of his hand

Johnny Rackin, "the old man of the class," entered Black-Foxe in 1957 after attending Rio Vista Grammar School and Campbell Hall. In his freshman year he became one of the first ninth graders in Black-Foxe history to make the All-American Swimming Team. During his high school career Johnny has consistently been rated among the top swimmers in the country.

In the military department he has attained the rank of 2nd. lieutenant and is presently in charge of 1st. platoon A Company.

Outside of school, Johnny's main interest is his car. After graduation Johnny plans to attend Valley College where he will major in business administration.

Cadet Corporal

HENRY STUPPY

Henry was born in Honolulu, Hawaii on September 17, 1942, and since that time has traveled half way around the world to such places as Paris and Rome. Throughout his four years at B-F he has maintained a solid B average.

He includes among his sports activities swimming and fencing. The latter sport, new to Black-Foxe last year, was interesting to Henry, and he quickly made the first team. This year Henry was elected treasurer of the Senior Letterman's Club.

In the military department, Henry has risen to the rank of Corporal. He is now a member of Headquarters Company where he plays the saxophone.

Henry has been recognized in Black-Foxe as a person of great perseverance. This shows up clearly in his activities in the Boy Scouts, where he has obtained the rank of Eagle Scout with a bronze palm.

Next year, Henry plans on attending either Occidental or the University of Southern California where he will major in pre-med. We hope that Henry's hard work continues to reap benefits in the future and makes a fine doctor of him.

Hank gets a lot from his books by putting a lot into them.

Cadet Captain

FREDERICK STURMAN

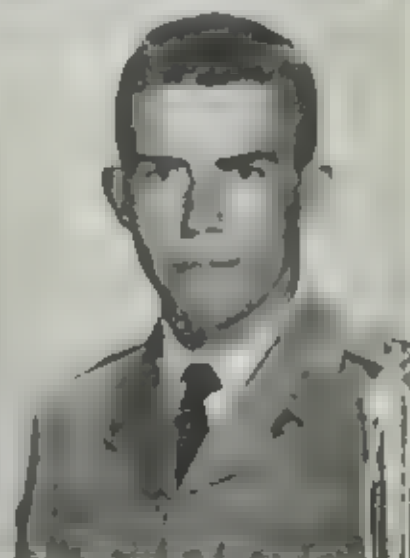

In his eight years at Black-Foxe, Fred has picked up more nicknames than any other senior. Such terms as "Doc," "Freddy," "Frederico," and "Sturm" have been heard on many occasions resounding across our campus. Fred brought his unaltered name to Black-Foxe as a fourth grader. One of the boarding seniors at Black-Foxe, Fred never fails to assert himself in order to get a job completed.

Cadets who don't know Fred sometimes wonder where he acquired the nickname "Doc." To enlighten those poor souls, Fred's hobbies include the studies of psychology, embryology, and anatomy. In addition, his activities in Mr. Yates general science class last year inspired him to take up his now favorite subject — biology.

The Hy-Wanders, an off-campus car club, recently elected Fred as their secretary. In addition to this office, Fred holds two more important executive positions — Company Commander "B" Company and President of his Junior Achievement Company.

Fred intends to have two years of college life at Menlo Junior College, and wishes then to attend the University of Southern California, majoring in anesthetics, or cardiology in the field of medicine. The "Doc" hopes to eventually open his own private practice.

Fred acts out his avid interest in medicine on a somewhat unwilling "patient."

Military Department

Commandant of Cadets And P.M.S. & J.

Best wishes of success to the class of 1961. May you benefit greatly from the military teaching and continue to look for the parallel as you enter fields of endeavor. There are no substitutes for high moral qualities or personal integrity and the world anxiously awaits the young people sufficiently inspired to accept the challenge

E. B. Gerson

Military Staff

The gentlemen pictured on this page represent nearly a century of combined military service. Major H. G. Hawley, Commandant, who was forced to retire at the end of the first semester because of ill health, remained on campus for several weeks to aid his successor Colonel Geforos. Captain Gardner joined the staff at mid year as Assistant Commandant following 30 years of active duty. Mr. Bruton, Treasurer and Business Manager in the Administrative Department, augments the staff both on the drill field and in the military classroom.

1961 has seen a change in the military organization of the staff. The staff has been enlarged from three members to five, adding the new positions of Ordinance Officer and Color Guard Commander.

Heading the staff is Cadet Lt. Col. Peter Mullen, who is ably assisted by his Executive Officer, Cadet Major Stephen Cummings. The post of Adjutant is capably filled by Cadet Captain Thomas Bieging, while the Armory is efficiently maintained by Cadet Captain James Kitchen. Also included in the group is Cadet Captain Brook Trout who serves as Commander of the Color Guard.

ANTI-THESE

Miss Adjutant 1961

Miss Judy Gilson, lovely sixteen year old Providence High senior, has been chosen as this year's Miss Adjutant. Judy, presented at the Christmas prom, was sponsored by Senior class President Brook Trout.

Attendants 1961

Miss Judy McConville, charming Providence High sophomore, serves as one of the first two Attendants in Miss Adjutant's Court. Judy was sponsored by John Rackin.

Miss Dana Jackson, lovely Paul Revere coed, is Miss Adjutant's other attendant, a position innovated in 1961. Dana was sponsored by Fred Sturman.

The Social Scene

The Christmas Prom, held November 27, was the social highlight of the first semester. Serenaded by the music of the Red Jackets, the Cadets danced until midnight, at which time Miss Adutant of 1961 Judy Gison, was presented to the Corps of Cadets.

On May 12, our annual Spring Prom, one of the most successful social functions of the school year, was held in the dining room.

As Graduation draws near, the whole high school is eagerly awaiting the Senior Prom, which will not only mark the end of the academic year but also will provide happy memories for the graduating class of 1961.

The Sabres

The Sabre Chapter of the National Honor Society, now firmly established at Black-Foxe, has performed many services for the corps during the year. Foremost among these was the writing of the constitution of the newly inaugurated Black-Foxe chapter of the National Junior Honor Society by Steve Cummings, President during the first semester. Larry Solberg, President during the second semester, made possible many interesting field trips, including a tour of the Kaiser Steel Plant in Fontana. The National Honor Society is establishing the policies now that will become the traditions of the future. The Sabres are now providing and will continue to provide sound encouragement and just rewards for good scholarship.

The Scimitars

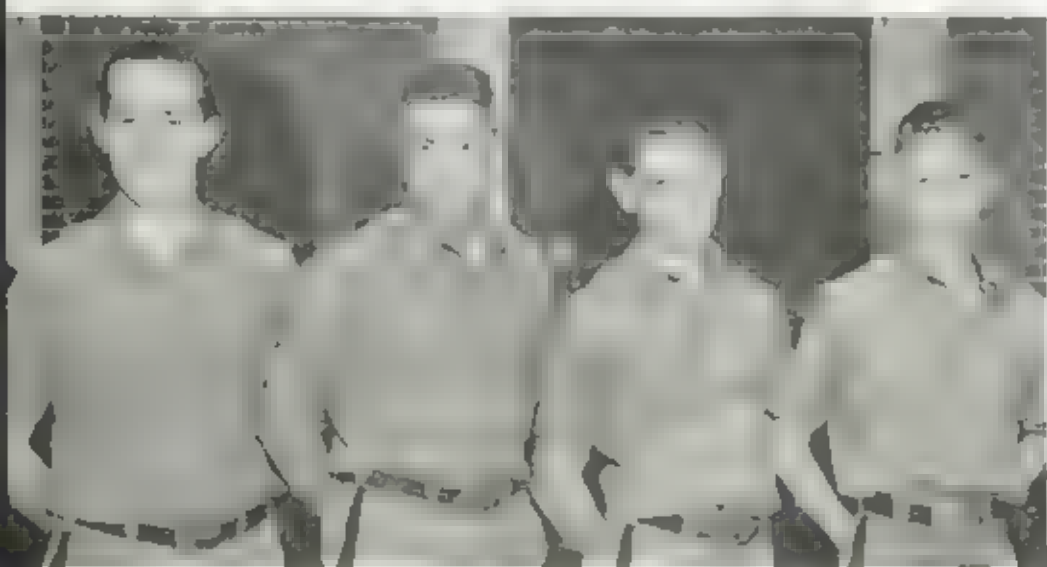

In a special ceremony held February 10, 1961, the Black-Foxe chapter of the National Junior Honor Society, named the Scimitars, received its charter. The Scimitars, open to cadets of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades who meet qualifications similar to those of the Sabres, have a constitution, written by Pres. Cummings of the NHS, on which to base their organization. The newly established Scimitars quickly obtained members, elected officers, and under the leadership of President Brown passed by laws. The Scimitars look forward to a long and meaningful existence at Black-Foxe.

This year, class officers have done a superb job in organizing their classes and promoting school and extra-curricular activities. The tremendous spirit shown by all cadets in the Canned Food Drive and the Adjutant Sales Contest is a tribute to these officers' fine work. This group of class officers learned to take responsibility and accept duties, and most importantly instilled in the cadets of Black-Foxe a tremendous amount of both school and class spirit.

The Kaydet

The 1961 Kaydet under the editorship of George Simpson has continually kept the school well informed as to the activities and events of the year.

Sports editor Pat Bayley, has given accurate coverage to all our athletic events and, through his writing, has promoted school spirit and higher attendance at our games.

All the top grade photographs that appeared in this year's paper were taken by staff photographer Bruce Bingman who excelled in his work. Layout Editor Scott Miller put in many hard hours preparing the paper for the press and for the paper's final handling by Circulation Manager Brook Trout.

All in all, this year's Kaydet staff has done an excellent job and should do well in national interscholastic competition which it plans to enter.

A Look at the Summer Scene

Below: Students participate in a reading reenforcement program and a high school class.

The campus is delightful in the summer time.

All subjects offered during the normal school year are available to cadets and new students who wish to make up a weak grade or satisfy a credit requirement in the Black-Foxe Summer Education Program. Dressed in comfortable sports clothes (as sporty as he pleases) the student will attend classes from 8:00 to 12:00 in the morning, during the six weeks of summer school.

For both the lower school and high school there will be varied athletic programs available every day. It is guaranteed that classes will be small enough to offer each student maximum opportunity for success. Some courses are taken by one to three students. Summer Education is a great opportunity to make up work or gain extra units, and Black-Foxe offers only the best.

Students relax in the school pool after a morning of classes.

Athletic Director

MR. WILLIAM HELBLING

In these days of stressed materialistic values we may ask ourselves if we are balancing our psychological and moral development by establishing a functional set of values to live and play by

Athletics aims to promote in each individual the attitude that he realizes that teamwork means winning; learns that good sportsmanship should be demonstrated while both winning and losing; takes pride in his team and himself as a member of that team; takes the initiative toward bettering his team by bringing a constructive attitude to the team; learns to complete a job once it is started; and never quits and above all learns to place his own personal interests second to those of his team.

This year marked the beginning of six man football at Black-Foxe. The official 1960 season started when the B.F. Bulldogs faced a hard-nosed Flintridge squad. Under the leadership of Mr. Helbling, our new athletic director, we started learning and developing the different skills utilized in this new game. This process was slow at first, but by mid-season we handed the Pasadena Academy gridders a decisive defeat.

Looking at the season many things, usually unmentioned, must be pointed out, such as playing after dark and missing touchdowns by slim six inch margins. Each and every player must be commended for his outstanding spirit and congratulated for his sportsmanship and fair play.

The 1961 basketball season showed that relentless effort and consistent hard work are two key factors in the formula for success. Leading the Bulldog hoopsters were six returning lettermen, including four starters: Brian Faris, Steve Cummings, Pete Hinckle, and Bill Aldrich. Rounding out the squad were Pete Mullen, Mike Ingalls, Leroy Wallingford, Dick Fagin, and Captain Mike Osterman. These Varsity hoopsters, coached by Richard Vertlieb, a Hollywood investment broker, established themselves as the finest squad in B-F history. Outstanding performances were turned in by Faris, high point man; Mullen, all-league center and top rebounder; and Hinckle, brilliant substitute for Mullen who suffered a broken nose in mid-season.

The B-F hoopsters played twelve league games, of which they won eleven and lost one to Chadwick in a mid-season defeat. This creditable record brought the Prep League Championship title to Black-Foxe for the first time in over twenty years!

Having qualified to enter the class A CIF playoffs by winning the Prep League championship, the Varsity met with Saint John Bosco in the first round of competition. This was the closest game of the entire season and probably the most thrilling, as Pete Hinckle sank two free throws with two seconds remaining to give the Bulldogs a 60-59 victory

Next we met with a favored Santa Ynez team on their court, and proved the newspaper odds a mistake by upsetting them 53-36. In this game our team achieved its best form and court discipline. Hinckle was high point man with 14, closely followed by Mullen with 11

The following Tuesday the hoopsters clashed with a powerful Brea-Olinda squad in the quarter finals and suffered a 41-56 defeat to place them among the top five teams in California

The Junior Varsity this year found their ranks filled by almost all new faces. From the start of the season hard work on fundamentals progressed until the boys began to think basketball. The going was rough for most of them who had not played league ball before, but a mid-season victory sparked their perserverance. The ground work has now been laid so that these players will be ready for Varsity ball next year and be inspired to even greater heights in their athletic careers.

This team is composed of freestyle specialists: Mullen, Gillespie, Linkletter, and Blymyer; backstroke and butterfly artists, Rackin, Maxwell, Toberman, and Teets; breaststroke mermen: Boren and Taylor; with diving champion Ray Ledbetter.

Highlighting the season was the annual Black-Foxe Invitationals, which proved an easy victory. Individual first place honors went to Maxwell, Rackin, Boren, and Mullen.

As the C.I.F. Championships drew near, hopes were high for first-place team honors with this, one of the finest teams in Black-Foxe history.

All-Americans — 1961

Few people realize what the All-American rating is, and how the swimmers from Black-Foxe are picked each year. The prep school All-American Team is composed of the ten top swimmers across the nation in each prescribed event and, in the case of the relay events, the ten top teams.

How do they judge who is the fastest? The coaches from the different schools send in the best times of their swimmers each year, and from these times the Selection Committee sorts out the best.

This year Black-Foxe has five swimmers who were selected. They are Pete Maxwell, Pete Mullen, Johnny Rackin, Howard Boren, Tom Gillespie, along with diver Roy Ledbetter.

An exceptional fine performance was turned in by Pete Maxwell who broke the two existing national prep school records in his specialties, the butterfly and the backstroke, during the C.I.F. Finals.

We are very proud of all these fine swimmers and wish them the best of luck for the future.

B. F. Invitationals

The annual Black-Foxe Invitational Swim Meet highlighted the season for our Varsity mermen. Five other schools were invited to this meet which has come to be known as one of the best meets in the area.

Black-Foxe dominated the meet this year, emerging victorious with a score of 92 points to Chadwick's 37, St. Monica's 37, Flintridge's 27, Mt. Carmel's 19, and Bishop Montgomery's 5.

This year's Varsity ball team included a greater number of young players than in the past. However, as the year progressed, these Bulldogs gained enough experience and inspiration to fight every inch of every game regardless of the score. Outstanding performances were made by pitchers Larry Solberg and Fred Lawler along with the "hitters" of the team, Leroy Wallingford, Pat Bayley, and Garth Upton.

As the ball soars into deep center field from the bat of Mike Ingalls, the first baseman moves back to the bag, the pressure off for the moment. The whole game may depend on the decision of the umpire as Mel Kirkman puts the tag on Larry Hayashida in an intra-squad game. The team remembers those pre-game sessions with Coach Frank concerning the opposing batters. Looking back on the first game, even the bus driver remembers the big inning.

Intramural Sports

Since the Junior Military League is no longer in existence, on our campus intramural program has been set up at Black-Foxe for lower school cadets. Organized and coached by Mr. Yates, the various intramural teams have competed with each other in football, basketball, and baseball. The teams have also had practice games with B-F junior varsity squads. This program has not only provided our lower school cadets with a chance to participate in competitive sports, but also has taught them the principles of good sportsmanship while building a foundation for our athletic teams of the future.

ANYWAY YOU LOOK AT IT — Through the eyes of a departing senior or from the vantage of a very young cadet, the year has been both promising and fulfilling. The graduating seniors will always look back on this year at Black-Foxe with a glow of affection, and the younger cadets will remember it as a pleasant step toward their senior year. Indeed, anyway you look at it 1961 has been an EXCITING YEAR

WILL YOUR HOUSE "SELL ITSELF?"

Unfortunately, most houses will not sell themselves. They must be sold and selling your house is our business at Coldwell, Banker and Company. Place at your disposal 55 years of experience and a professionally accomplished sales staff.

Owners may overlook important sales factors in their own home which a prospective buyer may overlook as well. Coldwell, Banker and Company sales people are trained to turn these sales factors to selling points—an advantage to both buyers and sellers. Next time you think of buying or selling a home, think of Coldwell, Banker and Company.

Noted Educators Approve Use Of Teaching Machines

Educators and psychologists of leading universities have been following the development of the teaching machine with great interest. One professor had this to say:

"I would risk the guess that with machine teaching any given material can be learned in half the time with half the effort."

"No student," he goes on to say, "missed material because he happened to be out with the flu when the instructor explained the topic, because he daydreamed in class or because the lecturer moved too fast for him."

"Another factor is that each student follows a carefully constructed program leading from a stage at which he is wholly unfamiliar with a subject to a final stage in which he is competent. He does this by taking a large number of very small steps arranged in a coherent order."

"Each step is so small that he is almost certain to take it correctly." Many other outstanding educators have publicly lauded the use of teaching machines as an advanced and much-needed educational tool for home, school and business use.

Children who spend an hour a day complete a full year's work in a relatively short period of time. Actually, ten or fifteen minutes a day with the Grolier MIN-MAX at home is enough to keep a child ahead of his class.
